Dear Admissions Committee,

I am writing to notably recommend Altynbekova Zhannur for admission to the Faculty of Economics and Business program, with a specialization in Financial Analytics and Accounting. As her English teacher for the past 2 years in English specific courses, "IELTS preparation " and "Spoken English program". I have beheld her exceptional academic abilities, strong analytical skills, and unfaltering dedication to academic excellence.

In my English class, Zhannur obviously demonstrated a clear understanding of complicated English structures and topics. She consistently ranked among the top students, actively participating in class discussions with penetrating contributions. For example, during our discussion of different spoken topics, such as "How to set up a business " or "Financial literacy " , she always presented unique and creative answers, showcasing her critical thinking and problem-solving abilities.

Beyond academics, Zhannur's involvement in carrying out "Speaking Club" for children , has further honed her practical skills. She served as the English teacher in "Speaking Club", successfully organizing lessons . This experience cultivated her leadership, teamwork, and communication skills, all of which are crucial for success in the field of finance.

Zhannur is known for her scrupulous attention to detail, strong work ethic, and collaborative spirit. She assisted fellow students with challenging concepts, fostering a supportive and collaborative learning environment.

I am completely confident that Zhannur has the intellectual curiosity, analytical rigor, and practical skills to excel in your demanding program. She has my highest recommendation without reservation.
